

June 1, 2007

Mattitude for sale!

This site has hit over 10,000 views in roughly two months, that's huge considering my previous site just hit 10K now and I had that since 2004. So thank you to all the viewers who have helped bring attention to my site!

I now have prints for sale, and not flimsy computer print outs like some artists. www.theuntappedsource.com is my distributor and they make high quality art prints on great paper stocks, you can not find quality better than this at these awesome prices. They also make oil reproductions of my work which are also surprisingly affordable and look beautiful, way better than my originals. My domain there is <http://mkaplowitz.theuntappedsource.com/>, just click on "View all artwork" to head directly to my gallery there. If there is something you see that is not on my site that you want to buy, I will try to get it up as fast as I can. So check it out and take a look at the rest of the artists there too!

So who is in that pic you might be asking? From left to right, we have Renzo Gracie, Charlie Valencia, and Urijah Faber! They have all seen and approved of my works! And to add to that, soon via www.theuntappedsource.com, you can buy my art with their John Hancock on it. And trust me, I have many other fighters that I will be adding to that list soon but I will not reveal names until they have put their signature on those prints. I have some BIG names though and some even BIGGER surprises related to who is signing things.

So keep watching, going to be some very unusual things in the coming month and I will be finally updating my "Samoa Joe... LOST IN TIME!" comic, a teaser can be found on the comics page. So get ready as the era of Mattitude rolls on!